PLAY, LEARN AND LEAD FOR SUSTAINABILITY!

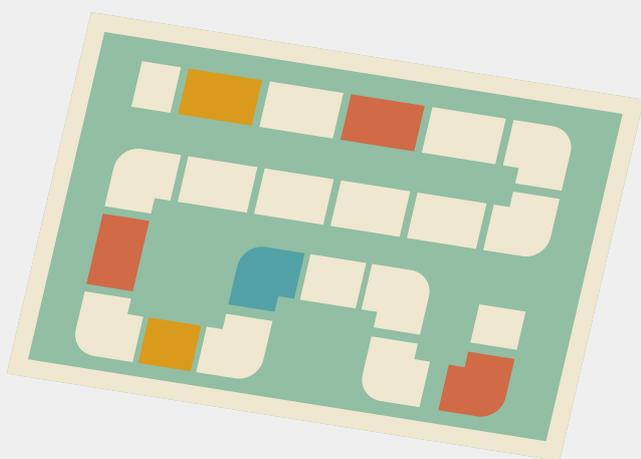

Welcome to the latest update from the YIELDS Project, where youth empowerment meets innovation! Discover how our new educational games, one digital and one board-based, are helping young people gain essential sustainability skills and emotional intelligence through fun, collaborative learning.

GreenQuest: The Board Game

GreenQuest: The Emotion Mission is an interactive board game designed to make sustainability and emotional intelligence come alive for youth. With two game modes (cooperative and competitive team play), players:

- Work together or in teams to solve challenges, reflect on emotions and earn Eco Stars
- Explore scenarios like inventing eco-campaigns, identifying recyclable items and discussing feelings related to nature and sustainability
- Use roleplay and teamwork to develop empathy, decision-making, critical thinking and green habits

What do you need? Just print the board, grab pawns, dice and the game cards, everything else is guided by your creativity and the manual. GreenQuest's friendly format suits workshops and non-formal education, making abstract topics like environmental awareness practical, relatable and fun.

YIELDS Digital Serious Game

Step into the world of interactive online learning! The YIELDS Digital Serious Game invites young players to travel through real-world inspired missions at two exciting levels:

- Players face sustainability challenges such as resource use, waste reduction and energy efficiency
- Level 2 goes deeper into EU policies, campaigns and teamwork in a multimedia, multilingual environment
- Every session rewards curiosity, collaboration and knowledge-building about the SDGs and environmental action

Designed for group or solo play, the digital game fosters reflection, healthy competition and active citizenship. It's accessible on any device and includes a full guide, so youth workers and educators can facilitate powerful learning, anywhere, anytime.

Why Game-Based Learning?

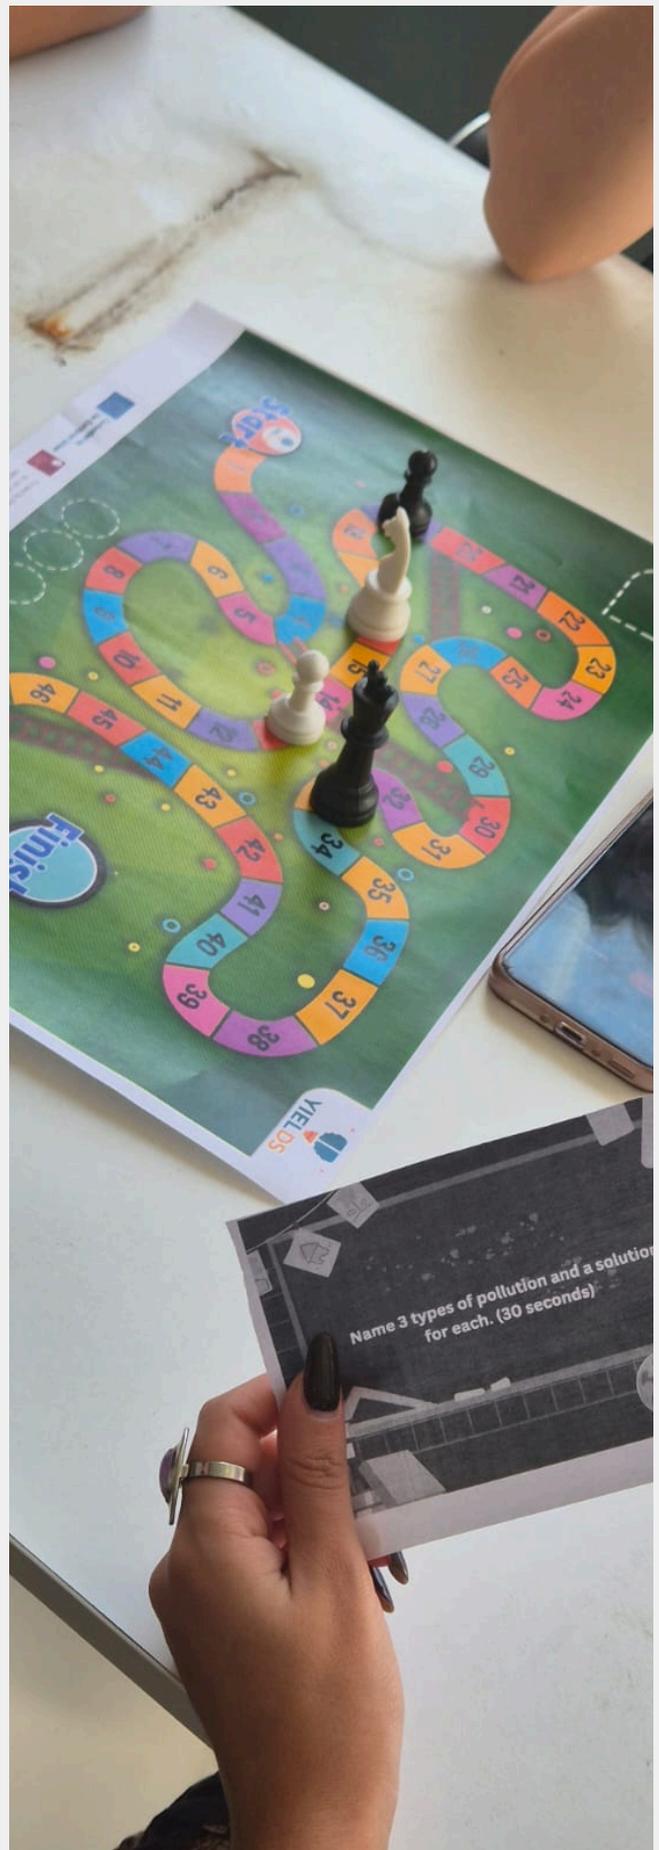

Both games embody the YIELDS mission: to empower youth through emotional intelligence, sustainability knowledge and active participation, the keys for future leaders and changemakers. Games are more than play. They're a way to reflect, connect and act for a better world.

Get Your Resources & Join Us!

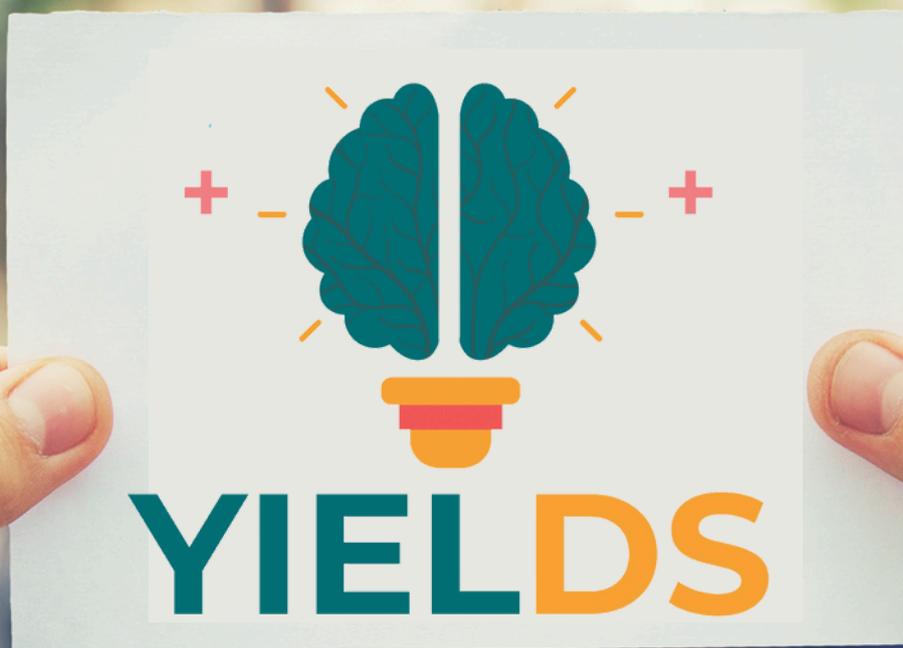

- Download the manual and both games for free in all partner languages
- Use them in your youth programs, workshops or classrooms
- Share your results and stories with us, we'd love to feature your group!

Stay updated by following us on social media and joining YIELDS events. Together, we're building new skills and stronger communities, one game at a time!
Let's make sustainability the game everyone wants to play!
